

4 - ICT/ICL 1900 in the Market

4.1 – 1900 deliveries

The following chart was presented by Brian Procter and Virgilio Pasquali, after extensive research, at the ICT/ICL 1900 seminar in May 1996 (Science Museum – London).

It maps the delivery period versus performance of each 1900 model in its successive manifestations (see Sect.1.4), the relative position of the successive enhancements and their relationship with their predecessors and with each other.

The 2903/4 and the ME29 Ranges, though not, strictly speaking, part of the 1900 Range, are included for completeness.

4.2 - Approx. Quantities delivered.

4.3 – Customers list and Applications

No list of 1900 customers or other records of customer deliveries or customers' applications have been found in the various document archives researched so far.

A list from the 1900 Users Group follows in 4.3.1. Additionally, a partial list of customers, including some details, is in the process of being compiled from input of colleagues involved at the time, and is included in 4.3.2. These two overlapping lists have not yet been correlated.
